Rt. 203 Bids

A low bid offer of $3,796,137 for improvement of Route 203 from the north limits of Granite City to I-270 at Mitchell was received by the Illinois Department of Transportation at Springfield Friday from the Calhoun Construction Co.

The work also will include reconstruction of the Maryville Road intersection which will be raised and repaved on both sides of Route 203 to conform with a higher elevation of the improved highway, according to Robert Kronst, chief highway engineer at Fairview Heights.

Kronst said the bid price by Calhoun Construction Co., which has headquarters in Springfield, is expected to result in a contract since the work offer was 4.9% less than the engineering estimate for the project. The highway department's estimate was $3,997,968.

A bid call for the Route 203 project was placed after Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, in a visit here Aug. 11, announced the project would be revived for action this year.

Earlier this year state officials said it was unlikely bids would be called on the project during 1972 because no bids were received in the last request for offers during 1971.

The Route 203 improvement will consist of construction of two roadways of two lanes each for the 2.3-mile stretch from Granite City to Mitchell. The work will include installation of drainage facilities which engineers say will considerably alleviate drainage problems in the area.

Kronst said contracts usually are let by the Department of Transportation within ten days after receipt of acceptable bids and that work customarily begins within two weeks after the contract award.

Forget-Me-Not Week Planned Here by DAV

A proclamation setting today through Saturday as Disabled American Veterans "Forget-Me-Not" week in the Quad-Cities was issued jointly Friday by Mayors Donald Partney of Granite City, Mike Sasyk of Madison, John E. Lee of Venice and Otto Kreher of Pontoon Beach.

The proclamation, which notes that the "war is not over for America's disabled veterans," urged area citizens to purchase forget-me-nots, the traditional blue flower of remembrance, which will be sold in the area Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The mayors commended the DAV for service to the disabled and asked "all citizens, interested groups and societies to participate." Plans are under the direction of Cecil Nash, commander of DAV Post 53.

Levee Split To Be Sought

The Citizens Committee appointed by Governor Ogilvie in August decided here Friday to seek separation of the present East Side Levee and Sanitary District into two districts "designed to be both financially and capable of achieving efficient operation."

The committee asked its staff to assemble related technical information, and make plans to consult with legislators and others from this region to aid in developing a specific proposal.

The committee said it is "hopeful of preparing by Nov. 15 legislation worthy of support by the governor and by the General Assembly."

Two Hurt Critically

Two Granite City men were injured critically when their southbound auto left the pavement at the curve on Route 151, about one-half mile north of West 20th Street, at 1:05 a.m. Friday and struck a utility pole.

Robert Hancock, 42, of 1553 Garfield Ave., and Ralph Skaggs Jr., 25, of 2610 W. 20th St., were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Skaggs underwent surgery and was admitted to the intensive care unit.

Hancock, who was unconscious at the hospital, was transferred to Firms Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he was admitted in serious condition.

Police said they believed Hancock was the driver of the

Illinois Power Issues Gas Permits in Top Priorities

Illinois Power Co. announced Friday that new natural gas permits have been issued in the top two priorities of gas service under the rules of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

After assessment of the company's gas supply from pipeline sources, its own gas storage facilities and its ability to create gas from propane-air installations, it has been determined that all priority 1 and 2 requests filed through Sept. 12 can be fulfilled, the company said.

Priority 1 is all residential customers and priority 2 is for space heating only by commercial and small industrial customers. The priority 1 and 2 requests for natural gas permits are being filed throughout Illinois Power territory, the company said.

All future requests for gas will be handled in the same way on written application for service, and on a first come, first served basis within the priority system as gas becomes available.

Reassessed Supply

All gas permits were halted May 1 for reassessment of the supply situation. On May 25 the company announced that all priority 1 and 2 requests for permits could be filled through that date. Today's is the second such release this year.

Illinois Power found it necessary in 1970 to establish priorities for natural gas because of the limited natural gas supply.

As a distributor, Illinois Power draws gas from five pipeline distributors, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., Mississippi River Transmission Corp., Transline Gas Co. and Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co.

The company, which serves natural gas to more than 320,000 customers in a 15,000-square-mile area of Illinois, urged that all who seek new gas service apply immediately in writing to the company's area and district offices.

Boy, 11, Dies in Traffic Accident

Gary Lee Cralley II, 11, a native of Granite City and a resident here until two years ago when he moved to Livingston, Ill., was injured fatally at 7:45 p.m. Friday when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car on Frontage Road at Route 66 in Livingston.

The boy was the son of Mrs. Irene Clemmons of Livingston, and Gary Lee Cralley, 1, of Granite City. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at the St. Ann's Hospital at 8 p.m.

State police said the car was driven by Leroy Schoen, 47, of New Douglas, who told them he did not see the boy and was unable to avoid the accident.

Schoen's car was northbound on Frontage Road and the boy was southbound on his bicycle when the accident occurred, officers said.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by a brother, Martin Cralley, and a sister, Teri Cralley, both of Livingston, a stepbrother, Johnny Clemmons, and a stepfather, Jonnie Raean Clemmons, also both of Livingston, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cralley of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Murphy of St. Ann, Ill.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Simon Cancels Visit

Lt. Gov. Paul Simon (D-Ill.) has canceled plans for an appearance here Thursday afternoon. A new date will be chosen for the visit. An article written before the cancellation appears on page 10 today.

The circuit clerk, recorder of deeds, coroner and county auditor currently receive $15,000 a year and the Madison County Board of Finance Committee has proposed a figure of $19,000 for them. The proposal is to be acted on at the Oct. 16 board meeting.

Also to be elected is the state's attorney, at present paid $22,200 annually ($15,000 from the county and $7,200 from the state). A 44% raise to $32,000 ($20,000 county and $12,000 state) is scheduled.

Chapter 53, Section 37a, Illinois Revised Statutes (1971) covers pay in counties of 200,000 to 300,000 population. Madison County is almost exactly halfway between those totals, based on the 1970 federal census.

The law sets a range of $14,000 to $18,500 for all elected county officials except judges and state's attorneys, who are governed by separate judicial statutes.

Holder county officials, such as the county clerk, sheriff and county treasurer, presently is short-handed and said that a better schedule will be arranged for the remaining policemen as soon as possible.

Cole noted a correction to the minutes of the previous meeting which showed that Don Durbin, dispatcher, would be paid as chief dispatcher during the absence due to illness of Bob Morgan, the regular chief dispatcher. Durbin is paid the normal dispatcher rate of $2 per hour, Cole said.

Cole, who also is chairman of the sanitation committee, informed the board that attempts to collect overdue sewer fees from Quiet Valley residents had succeeded in collecting from all but 16 families.

Cole asked the village attorney to begin immediate legal action against those who are delinquent in their payments. "They have had the required amount of time to pay and they have made no attempts to comply," Cole said.

Reer asked the attorney to contact the State Department of Transportation and request that the culvert under Route 111 on the west side of the viaduct be lowered about one foot. Water is standing there and is flooding parts of Pontoon Beach," he said.

It was suggested that the village install a catch basin between Victoria and Fontainebleau drives where flooding has caused severe problems in the past several years. Rochester indicated the board had previously approved the installation and requested that work begin immediately.

The board agreed to delay the installation of additional street lights until the village zoning board completes its Subdivision Control Report and recommendations, due Oct. 7. Illinois Power Co. has been holding up numerous street lights since 1970 waiting for the board to sign installation permits, the trustees were informed.

Repair, Street Sweeper

It was agreed to have hydraulic repairs made to the village street sweeper.

Cole told the board a used police car, purchased from the Illinois State Police, is in operation in the village and that new tires have been purchased and put on the auto. He said the tires could not be bought under the state purchase plan because the village had not previously qualified for the plan. "We should be accepted into the plan in about 30 days," Cole said.

The board recessed until the special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department Recreation Hall.

$846,000 to 3 Cities, County $853,000 If Revenue Shared

Nearly $1 million will be distributed to the cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice under the federal revenue-sharing program which has been agreed upon by U. S. Senate-House conferees. It was announced Friday by Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) at Washington.

Cong. Price's office said the compromise program, provides for distribution of $4,101,171 to three weeks, offered no reason for his resignation.

Of the total, $2,229,338, more than half, will go to cities having more than 2,500 population.

The county government will receive $853,944 and a total of $784,499 will be distributed to townships in Madison County.

Cities having a population of less than 2,500 will receive a total of $221,584.

The formula approved in the joint conference report will provide $857,246 for Granite City, $197,112 for Madison and $125,789 for Venice, Cong. Price said.

A breakdown of other municipal allotments within Madison County includes Alton, $688,994; Bethalto, $32,689; Collinsville, $131,329; E. Alton, $168,540; Edwardsville, $111,374; Highland, $68,468; Wood River, $174,018.

No estimate has been given as yet for the village of Pontoon Beach.

This year's program will call for distribution of $3.3 billion nationwide, with allotments expected to be made during October.

Illinois would receive $274.6 million this year under the compromise.

Conferees sought to resolve a few remaining aspects of the program during the weekend, with Congressional approval called almost certain this week.

Pontoon Village Resignations

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Four resignations were accepted by the Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night. Those who resigned their posts were: Mrs. Dorothy Simpson, village clerk; Harry Briggs Jr., village treasurer; Patrolman Charles W. Barnett, policeman; and Michael Kraus, police dispatcher.

Mrs. Simpson and Barnett said in their resignation letters that they are moving from the village. Kraus said he was leaving because of "unmentioned difficulties" and Briggs, who had served as treasurer only three weeks, offered no reason for his resignation.

Dr. Dean Rochester, board member, offered a woman's name for consideration as treasurer but withdrew a motion to appoint her when Fred Reer, board member, asked for more time to consider all appointments.

Special Meeting

The board agreed to hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to consider filling the vacant positions. Briggs' resignation is effective that night and Mrs. Simpson will be relieved of duties the following day. Both police resignations were effective immediately.

Kraus appeared at the meeting to object to having worked nine hours per day, but paid only for eight hours. John Cole, chairman of the police committee, assured him that the extra hours had not been paid for because someone forgot to submit time slips to the board. He said that dispatchers will be paid for all hours they have worked.

Kraus said the present time schedule for dispatchers has upset most of those working.

"All the dispatchers are thoroughly disgusted with these hours," he remarked. Cole explained that the department presently is short-handed and said that a better schedule will be arranged for the remaining policemen as soon as possible.

Cole noted a correction to the minutes of the previous meeting which showed that Don Durbin, dispatcher, would be paid as chief dispatcher during the absence due to illness of Bob Morgan, the regular chief dispatcher. Durbin is paid the normal dispatcher rate of $2 per hour, Cole said.

Basis of Salary Plan

The 26% salary increases proposed for four of the Madison County officials to be elected Nov. 7 take into account the fact the pay levels will be "frozen" for a four-year period, it is being pointed out at the County Courthouse.

The percentage matches that applied to other county officials two years ago.

State law specifies that salary levels must be set prior to the start of the four-year terms, during which the pay cannot be increased or decreased.

The circuit clerk, recorder of deeds, coroner and county auditor currently receive $15,000 a year and the Madison County Board of Finance Committee has proposed a figure of $19,000 for them. The proposal is to be acted on at the Oct. 16 board meeting.

Also to be elected is the state's attorney, at present paid $22,200 annually ($15,000 from the county and $7,200 from the state). A 44% raise to $32,000 ($20,000 county and $12,000 state) is scheduled.

Holder county officials, such as the county clerk, sheriff and county treasurer, currently receive annual salaries of $17,000 on terms which began in December 1970. These pay levels will remain the same through 1974.

The superintendent of the Educational Services (formerly county superintendent of schools) is given an annual salary of $27,500, paid by the state under Chapter 53, Section 45.1. Prior to their present terms, the county clerk, sheriff and treasurer were paid $13,500. Their increase to $17,000 voted in October 1970 also represented a 26% change.

New legislation is pending for the late-November session of the Illinois General Assembly. The proposed law raises the pay maximum for Madison, St. Clair, Peoria, Kane, DuPage and Lake counties from $19,500 to $23,500.

NOT FOR EASY RIDERS. An obstacle course set up at Nameoki Village near Nameoki Road on Friday is negotiated by Jim Remington of Zorah Temple, Terre Haute, Ind., during Great Lakes Shrine Association motorcycle competition staged here. His time was 43 seconds, one of the best performances of the day.

Building of General Logic Major Goal of Education

With elementary school pupils spending 10 billion child-hours learning mathematics in American classrooms each year, the question of "why teach math?" seems appropriate.

But, O'Brien says, many math teachers never have asked themselves that key question, much less tried to formulate an answer.

"Do we teach math so children can multiply a two-digit number by a three-digit number with success?" O'Brien said. "So children can say 'parabola' when passing a MacDonald's? So they can say 'commutativity' when 3 + 7 = 7 + 3 is written on the board?"

O'Brien, a specialist in math education who has written several children's books and 100 articles on the subject, said years of study on the thinking processes of children suggest the beginning of an answer to the question of why teach math. He said thinking processes of children essentially are different from those of adults.

"Children's thinking involves atomism, a view that the things, events and ideas they experience are unrelated to one another, that they exist as isolated atoms," O'Brien said.

Overcoming atomism in children through the development of relational thinking should be an important objective of elementary school education, he said.

Logic is Major Goal
 "By relational thinking I mean thinking which weaves together the atoms of a person's experience," O'Brien said. "When a person classifies, when he orders atoms, he's thinking relationally. The building of a generalized logic is the major goal of education."

O'Brien said because relational thinking generally does not develop naturally in children, rather than activities calling merely for the storage and retrieval of factual and procedural atoms.

"If children start to learn math in a different way, calling for the construction of primitive 'logical ideas,'" O'Brien said, they could overcome examples of atomism such as these:

—An unwillingness to admit the possibility that a person can reside in Chicago and Illinois at the same time.

—Hold up five fingers. A child counts: "One, two, three, four, five." Hold up the same five fingers and one finger of the other hand, and the child counts: "One, two, three, four, five, six." The relation between five and six (or more likely, the constancy of the five) is not seen by the child. Five is one issue, six is another.

O'Brien said encouragement of relational thinking can also overcome backward atomism—the imposition of relations between atoms without sufficient testing of whether the relations make sense. He cited these examples:

So We'll Get Mail
 —After the flag on a rural mailbox was put up to post letters several consecutive days on which mail arrived, an 8-year-old said, "we'd better put up the flag today." When asked why, he replied, "So we'll get some mail."

—Given the fact that appendicitis results in pain in the lower right abdomen, children will jump to the conclusion that such pain necessarily involves appendicitis.

"It's conceivable that present elementary mathematics curricula reinforce the natural atomism of children's thinking," O'Brien said. "It's not difficult to imagine that transmission, drill and memorization of facts, rules, procedures and nomenclature of elementary arithmetic and geometry encourage the view that the world consists of events which are arbitrary and unrelated."

O'Brien has developed activities to foster relational thinking in children. He has also been working in a project in which children themselves develop activities.

He enjoys testing adults with a problem contrived and solved by some first grade children in the project, a problem that stumped O'Brien and other math educators for nearly one-half hour.

The problem: If V, J and B each represents a different number from one through nine, what is the solution to V + J + B = J?

(The answer: B = 9 and V and J must be one digit apart, with J always one higher. For instance if V = 1 and J = 2 and B = 9, then 1 + 2 + 9 = 2 + 1. Or if V = 7 and J = 8 and B = 9, then 7 + 8 + 9 = 8 + 7.)

The competition is a prize contest in which the bank furnishes all dolls and prizes, while the contestants donate their skills to sew original costumes for the dolls.

Those wishing to help make a merrier Christmas for needy youngsters may enter the contest by applying at the bank to pick up a free doll.

These dolls, furnished by the bank, are 18 inches tall and are dressed in shoes, stockings and underclothing. Contestants may finish dressing the dolls in any one of six different design categories.

The choice of design categories includes fancy dress, sensible dress, nationality costume, storybook character, knit and crocheted, and a special category limited to children under 15 years.

The Granite City Trust Bank awards individual cash prizes in each of the six categories, plus an overall grand prize, for the best dressed doll in the contest, Karandjoff said.

Contestants have until Nov. 20 to complete the costume and return the dolls to the bank for prize judging and display.

Biggest Vote in History Expected Nov. 7 -- Howlett

More Americans will be eligible to vote in this year's election than ever before in history, Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, said Saturday.

And there is less reason than ever before for eligible voters to "sit out" the election, Howlett asserted.

Howlett, who is concluding his third term as Auditor of Public Accounts, addressed the annual state legislative conference of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers union in the Blackhawk Motel near Jacksonville.

"If voting patterns of the past are to continue, fewer than two-thirds of the eligible population will vote," said Howlett.

"In 1968, only 61% of men and women of voting age actually voted."

"More people stayed home than voted for either Nixon or Humphrey in 1968. One excuse offered was that registration was difficult for voters who moved from state to state."

"That excuse will not hold water this year. Anyone who comes into Illinois from another state as late as the first week of October can still register to vote in the Nov. 7 election."

"The state residency requirement, which only recently was reduced from a year to six months, has now been abolished entirely. The only residency requirement now is 30 days in the precinct of residence."

"The requirement of age has been reduced from 21 to 18 years. Nearly 140 million people will be entitled to choose between opposing candidates on Nov. 7."

"In Italy more than 90% of the eligible population votes in national elections. In West Germany 78 to 85% have voted over the last 15 years. Next door, in Canada, the record is 80%—much better than ours."

"There is no sound reason why the stay-at-homes in 1972 should outnumber the voters for the winner, or even the voters for the loser."

Independents Numerous
 "Among those who do vote, the independents are now more numerous than either the Democrats or the Republicans. And even Democrats and Republicans split their tickets. More than half the voters in national elections now split their tickets. "The trend of voters away

State Farm Trade Mission Leaves for Russia Sept. 22

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie on Friday revealed that the State Farm trade mission to Russia—a "first" for any state.

"Appearing at a capital news conference at Springfield, Ogilvie declared:

"For this historic trip which starts Sept. 22, we have enlisted the support of leading farmers and their representatives, as well as crop and farm export specialists."

"Illinois is Number One in the nation in agricultural exports. We are determined to increase our lead."

"The job of the governor's farm trade mission will be to capture every bit of extra business that we can, including the Number One share of the President's $750 million grain sale agreement with the Soviet Union, as well as all sales beyond that agreement."

Ogilvie announced tentative plans for the trade mission July 10. A news conference to reveal details of the trip was postponed from Sept. 4 because all arrangements were not yet final.

Leave Sept. 22
The mission, which will include state officials from Springfield, Washington, and the state's overseas office in Brussels, will depart New York at 9 p.m. Sept. 22 (Pan American Flight 102).

United States Rep. Paul Findley (R-Pittsfield) will head the mission at the governor's request. Findley commented at the news conference:

"This trade mission represents one of the most important events in the state's history as it affects farmers."

"I expect that benefits will be felt by Illinois farmers for years to come from the contacts that will be made—and the doors that will be opened—for expanding the President's unprecedented initial agreement."

"Soybean sales, for example, were not covered by the agreement but have already been made in the millions of dollars. "My own trip to Russia last January put me in contact with top officials, and I am sure that the American Soybean Association will be warmly welcomed and will quickly get down to business for the benefit of our farmers."

Ogilvie noted that Findley is a member of the House Agriculture Committee, and is the only Illinois representative or senator in such a position.

Also appearing with Ogilvie and Findley was Harold Steele of Princeton, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, which represents most Illinois farmers. Steele commented:

Given Official Status
"Our members are delighted with the governor's leadership in successfully negotiating since last year to get official status for this mission."

"As farmers ourselves, those of us going on the trip are prepared for a working mission that can transact business in all possible farm products."

"We're first in the nation because we try harder than any other state in the international competition for markets."

Ogilvie said the mission, with the help of the State Department, will meet with officials of the ministries of agriculture, foreign trade and procurement in Moscow.

United States Ambassador Jacob D. Bean said the Soviet minister of agriculture are scheduled to meet the group on arrival in the Soviet capital (at 3 p.m. Moscow time Sept. 23).

Also on the tentative agenda are talks with livestock and other poultry breeders to establish special requirements for feed grains and sales of breeding stock from Illinois' producers.

The party will return from Moscow Sept. 30, arriving at New York at 6:30 p.m. (on Aeroflot Flight 315).

Members of the party will include, beside Findley and Steele, the following:

—Harold Kuehn of DeKalb, a soybean farmer and president of the American Soybean Association.

—Robert Gilmore of DeKalb, a cattle feeder and a director of the National Livestock Feeders Association.

—Prof. Richard Felner of Urbana, head of the University of Illinois department of agricultural economics.

—Phil Bradshaw of Griggsville, a hog farmer and president of the Illinois Pork Producers Association.

—Illinois Director of Agriculture Gordon L. Ropp, assisted by James Seelye of Washington and Robert Osborn of Brussels.

—Ken Hartweg of Funk Seeds, Inc., and Jim Stewart of DeKalb, Inc.

Governor Ogilvie thanked the public members of the mission for agreeing to pay their own expenses on the trip. The governor added:

"I just wish I could go, but I am satisfied we have the best possible men to make this mission a rousing success."

Madison Lions to Join in Annual 'Candy Day' Sales

The Madison Lions Club will join an army of 25,000 Lions and 10,000 volunteer workers, who will be out on the thoroughfares of Illinois Friday, Oct. 6th—Lions Candy Day, to accept what is expected to be the largest candy sale in the state.

Contributions to Lions of Illinois' aid to the blind since 1952.

They will offer everyone who comes within arm's length a bit of sweetness and the opportunity to share in Lions' good work. The 600 Lions Clubs in Illinois have collected more than $6,500,000 in this manner in the last 20 years. This year's goal is $850,000.

Since the first Candy Day, the Lions have expanded their support to include five major areas of need to the visually handicapped children.

These include Hadley School for the Blind in Winnetka—the only home-study school for the blind in the world. It is now in its 32nd year of educating sightless people. Its alumni work all over the world.

Hadley receives 20% of its operating expenses from Candy Day contributions, and all courses are free to its students.

Leader Dog Trained
Lions Leader Dogs for the Blind at Rochester, Mich., trains dogs to guide the blind and also educates blind people to work with these intelligent animals. The staff at the school carefully matches the dog to the blind person, and then trains the master in all details of traveling with his canine companion.

More than 3,000 visually handicapped people have benefited from this work of the Lions.

Both "Dialogue" and its sister publication, "Intercom," which gives vocational counseling to blind youths, receive the major part of their support from Candy Day funds.

Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness directs a comprehensive program for the preservation and restoration of eyesight that includes the Illinois Eye Bank. Candy Day contributes substantially toward the Society's work. In addition, Lions of Illinois paid for the Society's Mobile Glaucoma Screening Unit, and funds the entire cost of staffing and operating it.

Receives Free Tests
Over 100,000 persons have received free examinations in this Unit. More than 1,500 persons have been found to have glaucoma or are likely to suffer this disease soon. All such cases were referred to their personal eye physician before it was too late.

Illinois Camp Lions, a summertime rural retreat which provides a specially structured program for 300 youngsters with sight problems every year, is located near Lake Villa. Candy Day funds pay all expenses.

One of the most practical and, at times, the most important part of the Lion's program is Lions of Illinois Funds for Emergency—LIFE for short—that comes up with cash in crises where that kind of assistance is needed.

Census Survey Set On Immunization

The Bureau of the Census will survey a sample of households in this area this week to determine the extent people have been immunized against selected diseases, Guy A. Lutz, director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in St. Paul, has announced.

The Immunization Survey, conducted nationally every year, provides information on immunization against measles, influenza, smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus, information needed for administration of health programs geared to disease prevention.

These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly Employment Survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economy's health of the country. For example, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that the July survey showed the Nation's employment situation to be unchanged, with the overall unemployment rate holding at 5.5% and the number of employed persons remaining at the June level of 81.7 million, seasonally adjusted.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is held confidential by law and is used only to compile statistical totals.

Additional $2 Billion
The Committee also adopted as part of an urban transit package in the 1972 Housing bill an additional authorization of $2 billion for the capital grant program under the Urban Mass

Transportation Assistance Act. These new funds are to be available for the purchase of rolling stock, stations, and rights-of-way.

In addition, the Committee agreed to change the federal grant ratio from two-thirds federal grant and one-third contribution, to 80% federal and 20% local.

"I am very happy that this grant step has been made toward providing affordable transportation for our senior citizens and helping our urban transit systems as a whole," said Price. "I have pressed for this law for a long time and the prospects look good for enactment."

REAR-END COLLISION

Early Retirement -- the American Dream or an Economic Time Bomb?

The number of workers taking "early retirement" — before age 65 — has skyrocketed in the past decade.

Men and women under 65 are retiring from their jobs at a rate 79% higher than a decade ago, and the trend is expected to accelerate even more in the next 10 years, according to the Family Economics Bureau.

By actual count, nearly 2.4 million persons in the 45 to 64 age range retired from the labor force in 1971 — compared with 1.4 million in 1960 — and each year more and more senior members of the nation's work force are choosing early retirement, according to the latest figures prepared by the National Council on Aging.

Some sources hail this trend as a boon for early retirees in that it was possible for them to enjoy their "golden years" while they're still in good health; other sources see it as a heavy blow to the economy in that the labor force could lose many of its most experienced and skillful workers before they complete a "full" career.

30 Year Retirement
Perhaps the most significant aspect of early retirement is noted by social scientists, who foresee a society near-at-hand where young people will go to school until they are 25, work until they are 35 and live until they are 85. Then, they will have spent as many years in retirement as they did on their job!

Provision for early retirement has been a common feature of private pension plans for many years. Commonly, such provisions result in a benefit lower than would be available at normal retirement age, 65, because of a shorter accumulation period and a longer payment span.

In a 1971 sampling by The Conference Board, more than 96% of U.S. manufacturers employing 250 or more persons reported that early retirement provisions are part of their employee pension plans.

Under a typical plan, the Family Economics Bureau found, if a worker retires a year early, at age 64 for example, his benefit would be about 95% of the benefit he would get by working until 65; it drops to about 87% if he retires five years early and to 47% if he retires 10 years early. Percentages, of course, vary from plan to plan.

Improved Benefits
Early retirement benefits were originally included in company pension plans to accommodate workers forced to retire early because of health problems. Obviously, reduced benefits did little to induce workers in good health to retire before full benefits became available at age 65.

Recently, however, many company pension plans have stepped up benefits to workers who retire early, thus providing the financial spark for many workers to consider retiring before 65 — workers who found it out of the question before.

The most liberal of these supplemented plans would allow a worker who retires a year early approximately 97% of the benefit he would get by working until 65; the figure is about 78% if he retires five years early and 53% if he retires 10 years early.

Among manufacturers, 30% of their plans offer much supplemental money — nearly double the number of 10 years ago.

Money Prime Incentive
Two university studies recently confirmed that workers choosing early retirement are chiefly motivated by the availability of sufficient retirement income. Poor health and job dissatisfaction rank second and third.

On the average, 10% of all retirements today are "early". The rate is three times higher for employees of companies with pension plans having liberalized early retirement benefits than it is for companies without such provisions.

Another way of making early retirement more appealing has been a liberalization of age and service requirements.

Beginning in October, 1972, for example, auto workers may retire with full benefits after 30 years of service, although their benefits are reduced drastically if they take another job. Their "30 and out" rule will allow some workers to retire as early as age 47.

Military Retirements
Military personnel for many years have been able to retire at the end of 20 or 30 years of service, regardless of age, with a pension pegged at a generous percentage of their base pay — 50% for 20 years of service and 75% for 30 years.

While most company pension plans continue to specify a minimum age for retiring early — 55 and 60 being common — many plans have lowered the minimum length of service required for early retirement from 20 years to 10 or 15.

In virtually all cases, however, early retirement benefits remain lower than those paid to workers who wait until they reach 65 to retire. For this reason, an individual retiring early must be especially wary.

Retired persons depending on a fixed income from their pension face erosion of the dollars' purchasing power. Prices will double in 18 years, assuming an inflation rate of 4% a year.

May Feel Inflation

An unwary worker who retires early with a reduced pension may feel the pinch of inflation even more than he would by retiring at 65 — not a happy prospect for someone who set out early to enjoy a leisurely retired life.

The normal retirement age 65 was set in 1882 by German Chancellor Otto von Bismarck when he laid down that benchmark for his soldiers.

Since then, life expectancies have increased and today men who retire at age 65 can look forward to an average of almost 15 more years and women about 15 years. But the commonly used age for retirement remains 65 largely because it is the cutoff built into the nation's Social Security System and private pension plans.

Social Security also sets the standard for early retirement age 62, although 60 and 55 are also common under private pension plans. Provision for early retirement at 62 under Social Security was extended to women in 1958 and to men in 1961.

Presently, more than two-thirds of the women and one-half of the men retiring with Social Security benefits take them early at 62, even though last year $119 a month was the average Social Security income received by men retiring at age 62, and $87 a month was the comparable figure for women. These amounts will increase approximately 20% in September when the new Social Security amendment goes into effect.

Effect on Economy
What will be the effect on the economy if the early retirement trend continues to accelerate?

Some sources in business and government warn of an impending "timebomb" at the rate of non-workers to workers continues to grow. They question whether society can afford the mounting costs of supporting an increasing number of retired workers.

The early retirement trend, along with longevity, they predict, could seriously undermine public and private pension plans, especially if the economy undergoes a recession.

Others argue that early retirement will have a favorable economic impact in the years ahead. Many early retirees do not leave the productive work force, but embark on second careers.

Business Favors Plan
For the most part, business favors supplementing early retirement benefits, since this allows faster advancement for younger employees and softens the impact of compulsory retirement policies at age 65.

Also, the Family Economics Bureau found, many firms are encouraging early retirees to remain in the labor force through retirement counseling that stresses new skills and job opportunities.

Union leaders believe early retirement helps ease unemployment among young married workers supporting families.

Retirees may even increase demand for goods and services when their leisure time suddenly mushrooms. Many middle- and high-income workers have sizeable savings to spend when they reach retirement. Evidence of this is the booming $250 million retirement housing business, once a relative fringe of the housing industry.

Early retirement may be another offshoot of a national feeling today not confined to the young — that everyone should be able to enjoy the fruits of American economic growth and affluence.

New Master Degree Program for Region

The Illinois Board of Higher Education has just approved a master of science in instructional technology degree to be awarded by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The new degree is a professional program designed to produce audio-visual generalists for public and private secondary school systems, particularly those in urban areas. Teachers now assigned audio-visual duties who lack professional training will be given priority. Special attention will be given to enrollment of minorities in the program, W. Deane Wiley, dean of the Education Division, said.

Instructional technology degree candidates will be encouraged to enter an internship practicum, with major portions of the instruction taking place in actual school settings. Students will be attached to teaching-learning centers now being established by SIUE in a broad area elementary and secondary schools.

Advanced courses in radio and television broadcasting now offered by the mass communications department at SIUE also will be incorporated in the new degree program. Broadcasting facilities at the university will be available for training of students.

The new degree program will help alleviate an acute shortage of qualified audiovisual personnel in the metropolitan area, Wiley said.

In a survey made by the Education Division prior to proposal of the new degree program, Harold E. Briggs, assistant superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region, represented fewer than half of the schools in the county have established centers.

Some districts in Madison to provide necessary physical facilities have been unable to implement program because of the lack of trained staff, he noted. Jersey County reported, no full-time audiovisual coordinators holding master degrees.

The FASTBANK auto loan

"Meet Camille," she said.
"Camille is a nifty example of what an automobile should be. She's dying of oil consumption, gas consumption, water consumption and her money consumption is a phenomenon. Camille has had it and so have I. If Fastbank is the answer, I'll bless the day you originated it."

That plea is from a young woman. Past owner of a ten-year-old car, who came to her Move Ahead Bank after hearing about our Fastbank Auto Loan. At the risk of seeming overly chauvinistic, we explained how Fastbank Auto Loan was so quick it was waiting for her—so easy to pay for it would overtake one full payment and prove to be truly liberating.

"When did you originate this marvel?", she asked as she pocketed our check for her new car.

I started to tell her how, one brilliant Tuesday morning, we...

"Bless Tuesday," she yelled. "Bless the Tuesday Fastbank was born."

Fastbank Auto Loan. It's your Move Ahead Bank's way of liberating you from harsh auto payments.

Trojan Eleven Earns 14-0 Lead, Defeats Central High by 14-12

By ROY JACKSON
MHS Football Writer

If Madison has a "secret weapon" this year, it apparently is still in secret. But in opening their season Friday against Central of St. Louis at the O'Fallon Technical School field, the fighting Trojans displayed both stamina and desire to win, and that's exactly what they did, defeating the Red Wings 14-12.

It all started during the second quarter when End Jeff Stanley ran 20 yards for a touchdown and scored the first six points of the game.

Then Quarterback Darryl Jones passed the ball eight yards to Running Back Charlie Johnson, who ran 27 yards for another six points. Jones ran for two points and the score was 14-0 at the half.

Central's Red Wings came on strong near the end of the second quarter, but Madison's defense held and Central was unable to score until the third quarter, when two touchdowns were tallied.

Press-Record Sports

Page 6 Mon., Sept. 18, 1972

Both extra-point running plays failed and the score remained 14-12.

During the fourth quarter, Madison could not get any where. But MHS also prevented Central from moving close to the goal until near the end of the game, when Central's Charles Cooper advanced 28 yards before being stopped.

The district TDS were scored on two offside penalties. Then the horn sounded and it was all over for Central, but just the beginning for Madison.

After the game, Coach Al Vonder Haar was asked about the 1972 Trojans and had this to say: "Fundamentally, we're a sound team and physically we're in good shape."

"On the whole, we're four points better than last year—two on offense and two on defense."

"Today we looked a bit out of shape and not ready; we had six of nine penalties called on mouthpiece violations, which could have been avoided."

But we showed we can score, which I was quite happy with, and we could have collapsed in the third quarter, when Central came back at us, but we toughened up and kept our lead.

"We're still saving our secret weapon until we need it." But the expanded defensive prowess of MHS may prove so effective that the Trojans may not need any secrets.

The Central TDS were scored by Charles Cooper on a 40-yard run and Robert Pullen on a 45-yard run after a punt was blocked.

Warriors Rally in 4th Quarter To Top Rams 8-7 in Grid Opener

By SCOTT HARRISON
GCHS Football Writer

The Granite City Warriors launched their 1972 football season by downing the Riverview Rams 8-7 Friday night at Riverview Gardens.

With only 12 returning lettermen and a basically young warrior team, GCHS through hard work and basic football got things going in the fourth quarter after falling behind 7-0 in the second quarter.

In the first quarter, yardage was hard to come by for either team. Both teams probed to find weak spots in the other.

Quarterback Clay Winfield completed his first pass of the season, to split end Mike Martinez for a short gain.

Due to the alertness and hard hitting of the warrior defensive back, Gary Burger, the Rams were loose from a Riverview carrier, and Mike Stanton recovered the fumble in the second quarter.

A good extra point kick by Shoulters made the score 7-0 with seven seconds showing on the clock. At the end of the first half, the Rams led the Warriors 7-0 and seemed to have momentum going for them.

A colorful halftime show by the Riverview Gardens marching band paid tribute to Granite City by forming a G C formation. The introduction of the Granite City cheerleaders to the Riverview fans was unique in that the GCHS girls participated in a band maneuver.

Punting situations occurred during the first part of the third quarter. Winfield started the Warriors moving by recovering a fumble at the Rams 48-yard line.

After an incomplete pass to Tom Schooley by Winfield, Martinez was hit at 20 yards, there was a penalty flag on the play.

The call, unnecessary roughness, set the ball on the Rams' 10-yard line. Winfield, keeping the ball for three plays moved it to the four.

On the last down, an incomplete pithout attempt left the Warriors stalled four yards from the goal with seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Warrior Martinez ran it back to midfield, where GCHS was waiting. After two runs put the ball at the 34, on a third down Winfield was caught for an 11-yard loss which forced the Warriors to punt.

Getting the ball on its own first down and three more running plays brought the ball to the 27, where again a punting situation occurred.

The punt was blocked by Warrior Brad Hiles and enabled the Warriors to win their opening game of the year.

With the ball at the 15-yard line, Dale Williams was the intended receiver for the first play. A powerful run by Back John Stagner moved the ball to the five for "first and goal."

Dale Williams carried the ball to the four, from where Winfield on a quarterback keep carried it to the one.

Halback Williams was called to put GCHS on the scoreboard, and a well-executed play by the warrior offense enabled him to score on a one-yard run, making it 7-4 in the Rams' favor.

Gibault, New Trier Blanked By Warrior Soccer Squad

Granite City High School's soccer team, which has lost only one game since 1970, earned its second and third victories of the season by downing Gibault 4-0 here Thursday and topping New Trier East here Saturday 1-0.

The squad has not been scored against this season.

The New Trier Indians were second-ranked in the Chicago Metropolitan Area last year and were expected to pass one of the most formidable challenges to the Warrior record of the past two years. Last year the Warriors won 19 games and a record only once.

The Indians coupled an impassable defense with a precision offense but could only manage to keep the game scoreless until almost the end of the game.

Sheridan Taps In With four minutes remaining, Warrior Carl Dake blasted a kick at the Indian net from the goal where he blasted a kick into the net.

At three minutes into the second period, Dake passed to Randy Worthen in front of the goal to tap in the Warrior's third point. Dake completed the scoring at nine minutes into the period as he blasted a pass from Gehling 20 yards into the goal.

Stops Short Clark deflected the Warrior's first half and deflected the only Gibault shot. Bill Schneck waited at the net the second half for the attempt that never came.

The Warrior junior varsity also was successful against Gibault here Thursday, winning 5-0. Three of the Warrior goals were scored by sophomore Dave Wolf.

The Granite City soccer squad will travel to Fairmont City Park tonight to meet Assumption. The junior varsity game will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be followed by the varsity game about 7:30 p.m.

QUAD-CITYANS ON KIRKSVILLE ELEVEN.

Linebacker Harold James (53, left) of Madison and running back Willie Ackers (33, right) of Venice are expected to log plenty of playing time for Northeast Missouri State University this fall.

James, a starter in the Bulldog defensive alignment, was a standout in his team's 42-0 verdict over Central Methodist. The 5-9½, 205-pound sophomore intercepted three passes, one of which stymied an Eagle offensive drive on the NMSU 25.

Ackers, sidelined in the Bulldog opener because of an injured toe, gained 45 yards on three carries as a reserve ball carrier. The second-year man scored an apparent touchdown, but it was called back because of a penalty. Undefeated Northeast Missouri State also shut out its first 1972 opponent, Missouri Western, 27-0. James and Ackers both played for Madison High School.

Defensive Units Hold In Junior High Action

Football fans got a look at three Granite City junior high school football teams Thursday as the annual football jamboree was played on the GCHS field. Each team played two 10-minute quarters in a round robin.

Grisby opened against Prather in a scoreless defensive game which ended 0-0. Coolidge nipped Prather 7-0 as Tom Monoghan ran 30 yards and Rich Roberts three yards on a double reverse to score a touchdown. Young Mac noggan then scored another TD against Grisby on a left end sweep and a 20-yard run as Coolidge won 7-0.

Prather totaled 101 passing yards with five receptions against Coolidge. Thad Lakatos made two receptions for 61 yards and Rich Roberts three yards on a double reverse to score a touchdown. Young Mac noggan then scored another TD against Grisby on a left end sweep and a 20-yard run as Coolidge won 7-0.

The games had been rained out Thursday and Friday nights, delaying conclusion of the tournament. The Army had other commitments Saturday.

The Hospital, trailing 2-1, tied the score in the top of the seventh inning on a home run by pitcher Dave Clayton. The winners then added three more in the top of the eighth. Batteries were Clayton and Les Frisse for the Hospital and Garland Horn and Chuck Tracy for the Maroons.

The Eagles will play the Maroons for the losers bracket championship at 7 p.m. today, with the winner to meet the Hospital for the tourney championship at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Guelker New Athletic Director for Cougars

Bob Guelker, varsity soccer coach, has been named athletic director at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The appointment was approved Friday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Guelker succeeds Harry Galatin, who asked to be relieved of his duties and reassigned to full-time teaching. Guelker has been serving as acting athletic director since July.

The new athletic director joined the SIUE staff in 1967 as soccer coach. He previously coached the St. Louis University soccer teams to five NCAA national championships and is a graduate of St. Louis University.

Guelker is a former president of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America and the United States Soccer Football Association. During a 13-year career in coaching, his teams have won 137 games, lost 27 and tied 10.

This year, he was chosen as coach of the U. S. Olympic team. And for the first time a U. S. soccer team advanced through zone play to qualify for the Olympic Games in Munich.

Guelker will continue to coach the SIUE soccer team in addition to serving as athletic director. "I will devote all my energies to help the athletic program continue to grow in stature and become a contributing asset to our area," he said.

Vans Captures Inter-City Title

Vans of East Alton won the Inter-City Baseball League playoff crown for the second year in a row by defeating Glen Carbon 6-3 Sunday at East Alton.

Mark Burris slammed a three-run homer in the seventh inning to give Vans the title.

New Scouting Sports Merit Badge at Munich Olympics

The first Sports Merit Badge of the Boy Scouts of America was presented at the Olympiad in Munich, Germany, to Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, in recognition of his contributions to competitive sport and world youth.

The presentation was viewed as especially significant to the fact that 78 BSA Explorers have been competing in Munich as the United States delegation to the World Olympic Youth Camp.

From the beginning of its 62-year history, the Boy Scouts of America has encouraged participation in sports as essential to a boy's physical and mental development. Cahokia Mound Council Executive William Monical told the Press-Record today. Merit badges in swimming, sailing, archery, skiing and other categories help support this goal.

The new sports merit badge is the first to emphasize organized competition "where boys develop their abilities through training and coaching, come together in teams, and compete against each other in organized meets," he said.

The sports merit badge pamphlet was developed by a volunteer committee of national sports officials headed by Carson "Casey" Conrad, chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, and was written by Parton Keesee, a sportswriter for the New York Times.

Local scout officials report that merit badge counselors are being recruited at present to handle the new sports badge. Information has just been received on the new badge at the Cahokia Mound Council Service Center, 1338a Niedringhaus Ave., from the National Boy Scout Council.

As part of the Boy Scouts' newly revised and improved program, scouts may begin earning merit badges as soon as they join a troop at age 11.

The merit badge program is an elective, educational plan that provides broad insights into many fields of skill and knowledge.

There are now over 100 merit badges available, ranging from astronomy to woodwork, each with a strong potential as a career or hobby.

Some of the other new badges include environmental science, emergency preparedness, computers, citizenship in the world, and general science.

As with the other merit badges available, a boy who is interested in earning the sports merit badge obtains a copy of the sports merit badge pamphlet—an 80-page booklet containing the badge requirements and 50 photographs illustrating the world of competitive sports.

He then checks with his scoutmaster, who refers him to a qualified local sports merit badge counselor who has volunteered to assist boys in safely mastering the requirements, Monical explains.

At 20 minutes in the second half, the SIUE one-two punch of Stremela and Carezza made it 6-1 with another unassisted goal.

Blake, scoring unassisted, cut the Alumni's deficit to 6-2 at 30 minutes, but freshman Greg Modde, a Rosary High Stand-out, scored the game's most sensational goal with five minutes remaining.

The Cougar kickers will open their schedule Saturday against the University of Wisconsin, Parkside, at Kenosha. It will be the first of five straight games on the road for SIUE. They will make their home debut Tuesday, Oct. 17, when they host the University of Missouri, St. Louis, Rivermen.

In turning back the Alumni, the SIUE varsity outshot its opponents 39-18, but even here the varsity's domination is marred by the fact that for the final 10 minutes Guelker liberally substituted.

And, although the SIUE offense was brilliant, the defense, which figures to be great, was just that. Led by Denny Driscoll, co-captains Vince Fassi and Kevin Howe, Tim Putnam and Bill Renaud, the Cougar defense held John Carezza to no shots-on-goal and allowed Tom Howe only one try.

Cougar Soccer Team Upends Alumni by 7-2

It was only an alumni game, but head Coach Bob Guelker and his assistant, Pat McBride, were all smiles as they towled in the locker room following their Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team's debut Saturday afternoon at Cougar Field.

Both had reasons to be happy. The Cougar kickers had just demolished a very strong SIUE Alumni squad, 7-2, in 90 minutes of hard soccer played under a broiling sun. Playing for the Alumni squad were such recent SIUE regulars as John Carezza, Tom Howe, John "Dino" Delinowski and All-American Jack Blake.

The Cougar double striker duo of Chris Carezza and freshman John Stremela electrified the 1,500 fans with two goals in three minutes, with the first coming at 9:30 on a pass from Stremela to Carezza and the second scored by Stremela at 12:45 on a neat feed from Chris.

Bobby Kesson, Cougar little inside right, made it 3-0 at 33 minutes into the first half (colleges this year are playing two 45-minute halves instead of four 22-minute periods) on a pass from Stremela.

At 38:30 in the first half, Jack Blake slipped through the tough SIUE defense, took a pass from Jim Kersling and put the Alumni on the board to make the score 3-1.

Refreshed by the intermission rest, the Alumni was able to hold off Guelker's charges for 10½ minutes, but Kesson slipped in and scored unassisted. Less than three minutes later Bill Renaud infiltrated up from the left halfback spot to make the score 5-1 with another unassisted goal.

At 20 minutes in the second half, the SIUE one-two punch of Stremela and Carezza made it 6-1 with another unassisted goal.

Ogilvie Predicts Victory, Outlines 10-Point Program To 6,000 at Dinner Meeting

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie last week predicted victory in November in a hard-hitting campaign speech at a major dinner in Chicago. Quad-Cityans were among those present.

Speaking to 6,000 persons at the "Go for '07" dinner in the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Ogilvie declared:

"The people want a government which is honest and responsive to them—a government which they can trust and in which they can participate actively."

People of Illinois, he said, want "an end to tax injustice" and they want to be safe "in the streets and in their homes."

Ogilvie cited his record as governor and outlined a 10-point program for "a second Ogilvie administration." He described the objectives of the next four years as follows:

- "1. We must finish the job of tax reform. We shall continue to press for a freeze on property taxes on the homeowners and other property owners. We will demand honesty and fairness in the assessment of property at every level."
- "2. We must complete the executive reorganization of state government and implement the new Constitution wisely. We have begun this task by creation of the Bureau of the Budget, the Department of Corrections and other measures. We will complete the streamlining of state government."
- "3. We must guarantee the safety of all the people of Illinois in their homes and on the streets. We shall continue to expand the numerical strength and capabilities of the state police and continue our campaign against the traffic in drugs. I shall oppose any effort to repeal the 'stop and frisk' law."
- "4. We must enact a new and more equitable school formula and increase state aid to education. While we have doubled school spending to reduce the pressure on the overburdened property taxpayer, we must now insure that state funds for education are distributed equally and effectively."
- "5. We must increase the economic development of Illinois and expand job opportunities. We will work to develop new markets for agricultural products, to encourage new business and industrial development."
- "6. We must eliminate waste in public aid and accomplish basic reform in welfare administration. Our primary objective will be to provide jobs rather than aid for those who can work. For those who cannot work we shall provide decent benefits more economically. The basic solution remains transfer of most of our burden of welfare to the federal government where appropriate."
- "7. We must continue to improve our programs for human needs and afford equal opportunity for all. Many of the programs which were begun or expanded during this last term must be guaranteed the sustained support which was so sorely lacking until this administration. That support includes a guarantee of equal opportunity for all."

"8. We must complete the state transportation system including a regional, public transit system for metropolitan Illinois. We shall complete the improvement of the existing road system and continue construction of the supplemental freeway system."

"9. We must maintain progress toward environmental quality. This includes additional expansion of the state park system with improved maintenance and expansion of its facilities and restoration of our wildlife and restoration of land damaged through strip mine activities."

"10. We must reform the court system of Illinois and secure merit selection of judges."

Small Businesses to Get Special Aid from State

Small businesses in Illinois will now have the opportunity to bid on state items set aside specifically for them as a result of legislation approved by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The new Illinois Small Business Purchasing Act authorizes the Department of General Services to designate specific commodities, equipment or services for state government use "set-aside" in the state.

"I hope this bill will have maximum impact on minority businessmen," Ogilvie said, "because we need their full participation in the state's economy."

As defined in the bill, a small business is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its field of operation.

To have Hong Kong Office

The State of Illinois is now assured a Far East regional trade promotion office in Hong Kong, and will be the first state to open offices in both world hemispheres.

Legislation authorizing the eastern office is expected to bring $125,000 to the Department of Business and Economic Development for its establishment and first year's operation has been approved by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

Roy L. Dickerson, director of the department, which will operate the office, said it will be modeled after Illinois' western European regional trade promotion office in Brussels.

Increased sales of U.S. goods to China are expected as a result of President Nixon's recent visit to the Republic of China, thus giving farmers in Illinois, which leads the nation in agricultural exports, a substantial share of the eastern market, Dickerson said.

GC Auxiliary Police Start Training Series

Prospective candidates for the Granite City Auxiliary Police Force are invited to complete application forms at the fall's first training session, scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Civil Defense Center, 1411 Nineteenth St.

Plans for the fall and winter training series were reviewed at an orientation meeting last week at the CD headquarters. Auxiliary Chief John Becker said today.

Becker said the local unit has received requests for training and membership from 17 applicants, the largest contingent to enroll at the start of any training program.

Basic instruction in auxiliary police work will be given new recruits and refresher courses will be made available this fall to other members of the force, Becker advised.

At last week's planning session those attending contributed a total of $100 to be donated to the John Allen Young Fund.

3 Youths Named on Trespassing Charge

Charles Ford, 19, of 906 Jackson St., Madison, and Vanorby Sullivan, 20, of 624 Meridica St., and Jerome Tyus, 17, of 1206 Market St., both of Venice, were arrested by Madison police last week and charged with trespassing on railroad property.

Police responding to a railroad employee's call said they saw three men attempting to break into railroad cars parked in the Terminal Railroad yards near the 700 block of State Street in Madison.

The three suspects appeared before Associate Judge Merlin Hiscott, who released Ford, Sullivan and Tyus to appear Sept. 27.

HOME BURGLARIZED

The home of Jacob Wachter, Rural Route One, and a shed behind the home were burglarized last week. Taken from the home were a television set, a clock radio, a radio, a clock, a pocket watch and a ham. Tools were taken from the shed. The intruder consumed five cans of beer from the refrigerator, and the house was ransacked.

FACES CONDUCT CHARGE

Bonnie Sexton, 33, of 4706 Kirkpatrick, was arrested in her home on Thursday and charged with disorderly conduct. She allegedly broke the front window of her home and threatened Ray Sexton, the same address with a knife. She was released on $25 bond.

Man Named on 5 Charges After Police Chase

A police chase of several blocks in Madison and Granite City resulted in the arrest last week of Floyd Wallace, 27, of 2017 Lee Ave., who was charged with theft, driving with a revoked license, reckless driving, failure to obey traffic laws and an attempt to elude police.

Associate Judge Merlin Hiscott released Wallace on a notice to appear.

Madison police said they were alerted by a telephone call that people were attempting to steal a car from behind the Dave Clark auto repair shop, 1810 Edwardsville Road, Madison.

Police said when they arrived one person ran, and at the same time a car sped from the lot. Police gave chase.

Warning shots failed to stop the car until police fired directly into the auto during the chase, finally bringing it to a halt at 13th and Meridian streets, Granite City.

Madison police were assisted by the Granite City and Venice police departments.

Madison Schools Are Complying With Rules

The Madison School district was one of 21 Illinois school systems named last week in a list issued by Michael J. Bakalis, state superintendent of public instruction, of districts which have not complied with its rules governing desegregation.

Madison school officials are working within the rules as Bakalis on Aug. 31 granted them an extension until Nov. 15 to file desegregation plans currently being conducted by the Illinois Institute of Technical Research of pupil enrollment.

Other school districts cited by Bakalis were given 90 days in which to file desegregation plans or face possible court action.

State Pilot Projects May Aid Small Communities

Copley News Service
Springfield — Small communities in Illinois could be moving toward a new concept of government if two pilot projects work out. The two pilot projects are being operated in conjunction with the Local Affairs Department. The two communities that will participate are Monticello and Milford. Each will receive a $6,000 grant to be used on the pilot project. The pilot project is termed "circuit management." It is an outgrowth of a study dealing with the small community report given to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie by his Rural Development Cabinet. The "circuit management" is designed to help the officials in the administration of local government for the smaller communities. The study, released earlier this year, pointed out that many of the smaller or rural communities have only part-time officials and in many instances they are unable to keep abreast of what is happening on the state scene that affects the smaller areas. The local officials pointed out when the study was being made that in many cases they did not know what type of state aid, if any, was available to the smaller communities. They pointed out that because of this in many instances their lists of priorities might not be in the proper perspective. Local officials also said such a program, which would employ city administrators, could help a community make a list of priorities if none existed. The city administrators will be hired on a local basis. It will then be up to the local government officials to outline what type of work he is to do. Hopefully if the program is successful then adjoining smaller communities might want to join the program. This is how the term "circuit management" developed. If enough small communities join together the program could become very worthwhile.

Opening of 1,500-Acre Herrin Pond on Oct. 6

Copley News Service
Something decidedly different will be added to the Illinois state park system when Herrin Pond in Southern Illinois is dedicated on Oct. 6. The new facility, about 1,500 acres in area, contains a cypress swamp and general conditions and inhabitants usually only found much farther South. The opening of the pond is the director of parks and memorials in the state conservation department. Elevated paths have been installed through the area, which will be open only for hiking, nature research and study. Johnson said. The opening of the new resource will come near the end of what Johnson termed a "satisfactory" season for the state's recreation facilities. He said the department hopes to add some additional nearby swamp area which has been preserved in its natural condition for many years by the present owner. The opening of the new resource will come near the end of what Johnson termed a "satisfactory" season for the state's recreation facilities. He said the department hopes to add some additional nearby swamp area which has been preserved in its natural condition for many years by the present owner.

Expanded Staff

For the second year, Johnson said, the summer season passed without any serious damage, violence or injuries resulting from rock music festivals or other activities. With the addition of 200 persons to the staff under the federal Emergency hiring program, "We've been able to accomplish things in a number of state parks we hadn't been able to do before," he said. The improvements included clearing new areas, which permits additional camping, marking additional trails, and other maintenance and improvement projects on some 15 or 20 state parks. New sanitary facilities and plumbing were completed at 13 or 14 state parks, Johnson said, adding "We hope people visiting these parks noticed that things were more comfortable than they had been before."

Inmates Working

At Ft. Massac in Southern Illinois, a force of 23 inmates from the Vienna minimum security prison was added to the work force. With varied skills, such as accounting, mechanics and carpentry, the prisoners have been able to do additional needed work at the park facility, he said. Because of an increase in accidents and deaths at the Starved Rock State Park, the department plans to soon add a safety specialist to the staff; he will draw up safety standards to be imposed on the entire park system in the state. About 700,000 persons visit Starved Rock each year, Johnson said, with most of them concentrated in about 300 acres where nearly everything is centered. Injuries result each year when visitors decide to climb the rock, some attempting to go up the face and falling instead to the water at the base of the rock. Others get into trouble swimming in an area where no swimming is permitted, because of a heavy and dangerous undertow caused by a nearby dam. "In the best interests of the public, we sometimes have to refuse to let them do some things they might want to do," Johnson said.

The house was decorated in a color scheme of yellow and green, which was carried through to the refreshments and gift tables.

The honored guest received many gifts. Baby "idea" games were played and prizes were awarded to Mesdames Daisy Bull, Phoebe Blunk, Jan Vineyard, Barbara Jack and the honoree.

Petit sandwiches, a salad and dessert were served to Mesdames Cleda Mayes, and Flora Bull, Ora Lee Grayson, Anne Matheny, Margie Grayson, Karen Grayson, Ruby Miles, Cathy Blunk, Linda Jack and Grace Herbst and Miss Judy Fischer, sister of Mrs. Mayes.

In attendance were four generations.

New Job Information Service Now in Use

Job Seekers began using a new job information service at the Illinois State Employment Service office at 2050 Iowa St. last week.

Howard W. Brown, acting manager, said that applicants now are using two viewings to study job listings. The electronic viewers contain lists of jobs throughout the St. Louis area, including Madison and St. Clair Counties.

"Establishment of self-service viewers has reduced waiting time and increased applicants' opportunity to search our complete job listings which are changed daily," Brown said. "Applicant response has been quite favorable."

When an applicant has identified jobs for which he is qualified, he then sees an employment interviewer who completes the selection and referral process including establishment of appointments and follow-up to assure good service for both applicants and employers.

Brown said that "careful screening and selective referral to assure good service for both applicants and employers is continued under the new system."

Training Teachers Answer To Glut on Physics Market

Flexibility of instruction is the answer to applied's glut on the physics market, says Thomas Baldwin, chairman of the physics department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The SIUE scientist blames the employment ills created by the physics explosion in the 1960's on academic orientation toward only pure research.

"Too many physics departments lost sight of one of their most important roles — offering service courses to other disciplines — and they were not interested enough in developing teachers."

Baldwin explained that physicists have a particular problem because a large proportion of their support comes from the federal government.

"The number of physicists going on the market depends on expenditures of the government," Baldwin said; "When the government cuts back in funds for colleges and universities, fewer physicists are turned out on the market. When the government cuts back on support of industries demanding physicists, the job market declines."

A Young Department
"We are a young and active physics department in a number of research areas at SIUE," Baldwin explained, "but we aren't trying to compete with large schools oriented for training pure research physicists. One of our concerns is to train students to become high school teachers in the physical sciences."

Last spring, Baldwin said, "we knew of eight opportunities in high schools and five or six in junior high schools in this immediate area for physics teachers. In today's tight market, this is quite a contrast. Right now we are working toward more appropriate training for science teachers in the elementary schools."

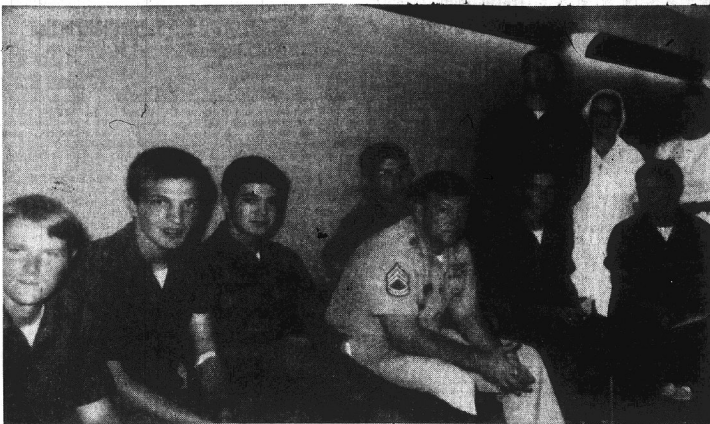

Another emphasis to look at is training in applied areas, Baldwin said. "There are many opportunities in physics and related fields. Interdisciplinary programs can include, for example, economics, business, law, urban planning and earth sciences."

A student with a bachelor's degree in physics is welcome in other disciplines, Baldwin maintains. "We have no problem placing the physics major with a bachelor's or master's degree if he is willing to consider areas other than pure research. We should make a serious commitment to the life, health and environmental sciences," Baldwin said, "including such programs as health physics, biophysics and atmospheric physics. New courses are being designed at SIUE and students are encouraged to investigate career opportunities in health-related areas."

Study Teachers Program
For three years SIUE has been studying development of a program emphasizing training for teachers on the community and junior college levels, leading to a doctor of arts degree in the physical sciences.

"We can achieve some measure of national prominence if we establish ourselves at SIUE as a major center for the training of physical science teachers at all levels," Baldwin says. "We will continue to recognize the importance of the physics program for the non-science major, recognize the geographical area we serve and increase our efforts in remedial course and tutorial sessions for the disadvantaged in the area, and hire the higher quality faculty consistent with our goals," Baldwin said in explaining the aims of the SIUE physics department.

"Above all," he said, "we must remain flexible — it's the name of today's game."

The Rev. Charles L. Jeris an uncle of the bride, officiated at the 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony. The altar was adorned with harvest flowers and the pews and aisle were marked with lily of the valley. Floral centerpieces were placed at the entrance to the church.

The organist, Mark Cox, a cousin of the bride, accompanied the Rev. Raymond Price, the groom's uncle, as he sang "The Twelfth of Never," "More" and "O Perfect Love."

The former Miss Beedle wore an exquisite polyester over white polyester gown with Empire waist, lantern sleeves and rounded neckline and accented with white daisy trim. The veil of illusion, chapel length, was secured to a headpiece of satin and floral trim, centered with crystal beads.

A cascade bouquet of white mums and poms was carried by the bride.

Miss Waynette Beedle, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, serving with Mrs. James Raggett of Alexandria, Va., bridesmaid and Miss Cynthia Jeris, a cousin of the groom, junior maid. Little Donna Beiz, a cousin of the groom, was flower girl, with Rodney Dillon as the ring bearer.

The attendants were full length gowns of tangerine crepe in Juliet styling with long sleeves and high rise waists. Beige lace detailed the waist and sleeves.

Colonial bouquets of harvest poms in shades of bronze, gold and beige, intertwined with cocoa brown velvet ribbon, were carried by the attendants.

The flower girl held a miniature bouquet matching that of the bride.

The Schermer Bulletin

The latest thing at Schermers is the new "time and temperature" sign added to our existing sign. We have had this on order for many months and as of this writing they say it will be working today. Just another service from Schermers Bros.

We ran out of Melmac dinner plates late Saturday night so our guess as to quantity was OK. Our customers were happy with the free plates and many of them bought extras at 4 for $1.00. After all where can you get Melmac at that price?

This week's sale of Checkerboard Buffet Dinners will be the last. There will be no more. But, as you know, the Schermers Bros. are always on the lookout for those exceptional "buys" and something else will be showing up; it always does.

Speaking of "buys" Weyhaupt Picnic Hams at 49c is a real winner. We were only able to get 300 at this price, so act accordingly. The "Big Men's" Double Knits are in sizes 42 thru 60. They won't last any longer than the last shipment, so if you were waiting for a particular size; it is here now. Come on down.

Vickie King Is Married In Candlelight Setting

The marriage of Miss Vickie Carolyn King, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. King, 2569 Boyle Ave., and John Dewayne Dollar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dollar of Puxico, Mo., was solemnized on Sept. 2 at the Pontoon Beach Church of Christ.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and "mums on the altar and lighted tapers in trinity candelabra provided the setting for the 6 p.m. ceremony. The Rev. Ronnie Ledbetter of Essex, Mo., an uncle of the bride, officiated.

Neil Seymour presided at the organ for Jerry Hart, also an uncle, as he sang "More," "The Wedding Prayer" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Mr. King escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a nylon organza gown enhanced with lace, accented with white.

Rows of Venise lace trimmed the Empire bodice, high neckline and lantern sleeves, extending to points at the wrists.

A full chapel length train was detailed with fabric bows and a contour headpiece, embellished with tiny seed pearls, secured the bouffant shoulder length veil of bridal illusion.

She carried a cascade of white carnations and lilies, interspersed with orchid ribbon loops.

Floral print lavender dresses made with an Empire waist encircled with purple velvet ribbons were worn by the attendants. They had purple velvet ribbons in their hair, securing shoulder length veils.

Each carried a nosegay of orchid daisy "mums, apricot carnations, baby breath and white daisies, accented with orchid streamers.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Barbara Byrne and the bridesmaids were Misses Beverly Rowland, a cousin of the bride, Marian Young, Marilyn Mang, Pam Hart and Rhonda Ledbetter. The latter two also are cousins of the bride.

Cheryl Byrne, the little flower girl, wore a frock identical to the adult attendants and carried a basket of flowers. Eric Wortham was the ringbearer.

A. O. Smith Had Faith in Area, Plant Shows It was Justified

A hearty commendation is in order for the employees, supervisors, managers, officers and owners of the A. O. Smith Corporation on the occasion of its ten million auto frame produced at the Granite City plant.

An indication of the vast size of the accomplishment is the fact that it took 18 years to accomplish. Since the turn of the century, the corporation has produced a grand total of 80 million passenger car frames at its Granite City and Milwaukee plants. Its Automotive Division is the largest producer of auto and truck frames in the world.

Dave Stieber, vice-president and general manager of the division, came here from Milwaukee for the celebration last week along with Pete Blake, director of operations, Paul Kemp, director of manufacturing and services, and Frank Ewason, account executive. Mr. Kemp was manager of the Granite City plant until being promoted; he was succeeded here by Paul Kelly.

An impressive congratulatory note to all the people of A. O. Smith at Granite City, and congratulations also are due him and the other officials who showed the years in youth, service and this community on past occasions when confidence was crucial.

Everyone is happy to be able to say accurately that the outstanding example of faith by the A. O. Smith Corporation has been justified by subsequent events.

Demos Nicholas Veteran City Official, Dedicated Law Officer

The large attendance at the funeral of Chief Deputy Sheriff Demos Nicholas is an indication of the respect and friendship which had developed for him during his too-brief life span.

Originally operator of a cleaning establishment and a photography studio, he had been Madison city treasurer for nearly 20 years.

He became interested in investigative work during service as a police photographer; securing additional education, the World War II veteran entered the law enforcement field as a full-time profession, advancing to chief investigator, captain in charge of field operations and then chief deputy sheriff. An expert on preparation of evidence, Mr. Nicholas was an effective advocate of expanded training for law enforcement personnel. Active for a number of years in youth service, he was an experienced juvenile officer and had devoted much time to helping the public understand and combat drug abuse in the community.

He will be remembered as a capable and fair individual dedicated to the closely-related causes of crime prevention and the detection and prosecution of law violators.

United Nations Challenged to Put Stop to Terror, Hijackings

Terrorism directed against Israel clouds the atmosphere as the United Nations prepares to begin its 28th annual session tomorrow.

The UN unfortunately has shown consistent bias against the democratically-governed nation, which seeks nothing more than the right to exist on a barren stretch of desert that had little value before Israel began to develop it. Time and time again, the UN has favored the Arab states and Arab nations, including lands that too often use their vast oil wealth for the benefit of the few rather than the many.

Had it not been for a veto, America's second in the 27 year-old United Nations, the organization would have demanded a halt in the air raids over Syria and Lebanon carried out in reprisal for the killing of Israeli athletes at the Olympics in Munich, Germany.

If any sort of confidence in the UN is to be maintained, it is essential that it deal directly with such vital matters as terrorism, hijacking, kidnapping and murder.

Although we do not always agree with the attitudes of UN Secretary General Kurt Waldheim, he is right in calling for an immediate debate on such topics as these by the 113-nation world parliament. His comment:

"Unless terrorism is checked, we may witness a serious erosion of the already tenuous structure of international law, order and behavior."

Pucinski Critical of Percy Drive for National Image

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield — Democrat Roman C. Pucinski, generally regarded as trailing his opponent, the U. S. Senate, is making a strong bid for Republican votes in an effort to get back in the running.

He is increasingly resorting to traditional strategy in an effort to split the vote between Charles H. Percy from traditional GOP voters.

Pucinski hopes to capitalize on the well-known attitude of many Republicans who feel that Percy is often too liberal for their tastes and who look with some foreboding on speculation that Percy could be the party's nominee for President in 1976.

Campaigning in the East St. Louis area, Pucinski sought to exploit this feeling by charging that Percy is "too busy creating a national image so that he can run for President in 1976 to have any time for the Illinois problems."

Pucinski by implication also accused Percy of failing to do all he could to assure construction of the planned new St. Louis Area Airport on the Illinois side of the Mississippi River.

To the Percy forces, this is considered an attack on the quality of Pucinski's high-flying campaign, which they charge is fueled by innuendoes and unproven insinuations.

Actually, the effort to land the airport for Illinois has been the main responsibility of Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The basic decision would be made partly by St. Louisans. Certainly, it is unlikely that Missouri would take kindly to any political pressure from an Illinois candidate for office.

To some St. Louisans, Pucinski's use of the Presidential possibility underscores the desperation of his campaign. So far, he has been unable to develop any major issues against Percy.

In Illinois — and Democrats as well — may be impressed that Percy is recognized nationally as having the stature that would qualify him for consideration for the country's top office.

Pucinski's dwelling on the matter, however, may gain him some public attention.

SEN. McGOVERN HONEST AND WOULD AID LABOR
To the Editor:

It is most nice to me to read I read the U. S. Chamber of Commerce representative's column in "Voice of Business."

Sept. 5, he was decrying the Republican platform for not mentioning restrictive labor legislation.

The Platform Committee was probably striving for labor's endorsement which, thank heaven, they didn't get. At any rate, the Chamber's call for a national "right to work" law is a lot of hogwash.

Protecting the worker, this is really an attempt to dilute union power. The same is true in the U. S. Chamber's wanting to deny food stamps to strikers, thereby forcing them to accept anything the management hands out.

A check of the record will quickly reveal that states with "right to work" laws have considerably lower average hourly pay rates and higher unemployment.

The U. S. Chamber needn't worry. If the Republican's "Saint Richard" makes it in Congress, along with a few less employees. We need a President like George McGovern, and we need him bad.

Queen Terry to Study Drama, Voice

Every now and then a caller asks to speak to "the man who came down from Wisconsin to run the Press-Record."

There is no way to do so because he doesn't exist. This newspaper was purchased in the spring of 1970 by the Post Corporation of Appleton, Wis. But both General Manager Paul Holbert and myself are Granite Cityans—lifelong local residents.

Wisconsin news is not featured in the Press-Record because this paper remains—as it has been for seven decades—dedicated to the Quad-Cities, followed—in order—by Madison County, by Illinois, by the U.S. and by the world.

We'll make an exception in today's column because Appleton has just made news of interest throughout the United States. Miss Terry Anne Meeuwse of De Pere and Appleton was crowned on Sept. 9 at Atlantic City, N.J., as Miss America, 1973.

Our corporation's Appleton newspaper, The Post-Crescent, carried the story of her victory in detail.

And the timing was such that a color photo of her, along with a singer song as such, was published on the front page of the Sunday morning, Sept. 10, Post-Crescent, the inaugural issue of a greatly changed and improved format for that publication.

Here are parts of the coverage provided for her home town as the new Miss America progressed toward her title:

"Miss Meeuwse brought a lot of talent and a wealth of performing experience with her to the Miss America Pageant. She is a singer song as such, had leading parts in her college musicals."

"And she sang with the New Christy Minstrels traveling and performing extensively in five other countries besides the U.S."

"I sang with the Minstrels for two years," Terry notes, "after which I left them for a variety of reasons."

"I had hoped during my years to make some individual contacts but this proved impossible; I found that people came to hear the Christys as a group and there was little opportunity for individual advancement."

"We were on the road 50 weeks as she rode along the covered that my interest in this work was burning itself out."

"I love to sing but I didn't want to continue to perform with this organization after it was discredited and as much as I could, to remain would merely be marking time."

"Miss America says her goal is to be able to go to New York City to study voice and drama."

"I have been singing ever since I was a little girl. I love all kinds of music, except maybe the hard rock or acid rock."

"Like music that all types of people can appreciate with, that they feel they can relate to, and for me this means singing a lot of popular tunes."

"Music-loving Terry Anne, who sang up a storm during the pageant, was strolling with the parade on Wednesday in the pageant parade."

"This was the public's first opportunity to view the 50-state queens, who travel the six-mile parade route in colorful floats and singing and dancing bands and countless marching bands."

Terry had looked forward to the parade. "It's a very strange feeling when you've watched the parade for years on TV and then suddenly you find that you are going to be actually participating in it yourself," she said before it was held.

"It is hard to realize and extremely exciting. For the occasion, Miss Wisconsin wore a navy-colored silk formal with bodice encrusted with ice blue beads. The costume featured a long hooded cape lined with ice blue brocade."

She had arrived in the resort on the previous Saturday afternoon, flying in from Oshkosh to Chicago, and then to Philadelphia. From there she traveled to Atlantic City.

"We left at 7 a.m. with a number of friends at the airport to see me off," she says.

"One thing happened which sort of shook me up. Half my luggage was left behind because we neglected to empty one of the ice chests."

"I was missing six pieces of luggage. Then three more pieces had to be left in Philadelphia because the airline didn't have room for them."

Miss Wisconsin participated on the Monday of the pageant week in the official registration, during which the state queens were introduced to each other and were briefed on the coming activities.

For registration, she wore a costume which featured a velvet blazer and long knit skirt, with a riding hat.

She was considered an oddity in the crowd as she entered her final night of preliminary competition.

Terry Anne, who hails from De Pere and represented Appleton in the Miss Wisconsin pageant, captured the title of a vocal rendition of "He Touched Me." She received a $1,000 scholarship and a head start toward the crown.

Veteran observers of the pageant considered her a shoo-in and probably the strongest contender to come to the resort since Yuland Betzbe, Miss America of 1951.

A singer with tremendous vocal range, Terry Anne chose to offer the song because this may have been a prophetic choice for the beautiful and articulate Miss Wisconsin.

Did she feel that the talent she gave her one foot in the door to the top crown?

"I hope so," she commented, adding that she was not taking it for granted, however.

"The Midwest beauty was the first of 7 girls who competed for the award which counts 50%, in amassing the necessary points in capturing the title."

Miss Wisconsin's soaring voice filled the far reaches of the tremendous convention hall in a performance that brought the cheering crowd to its feet in acknowledgment of her effort.

When asked if she thought her New Christy Minstrel experience gave her a distinct advantage, she answered "Yes, it probably did. I am used to singing before large crowds of people and in fact I love performing before large audiences."

When asked if she felt that she was getting her song across to the audience of more than 8,000, Terry Anne said, "Well, I hope that you don't think I am putting you on, but I really wasn't too aware of the audience."

"While backstage, before I went on, I really tried to get psyched up so that I didn't think about anything but singing."

"I thought about happy things, like falling in love for the first time, and that nervous, uneasy feeling that you get in your stomach each time the piano rings and things like that. Which is really what the song is about."

She continued, "Then the crowd stands away and singing becomes a love story between me and just people."

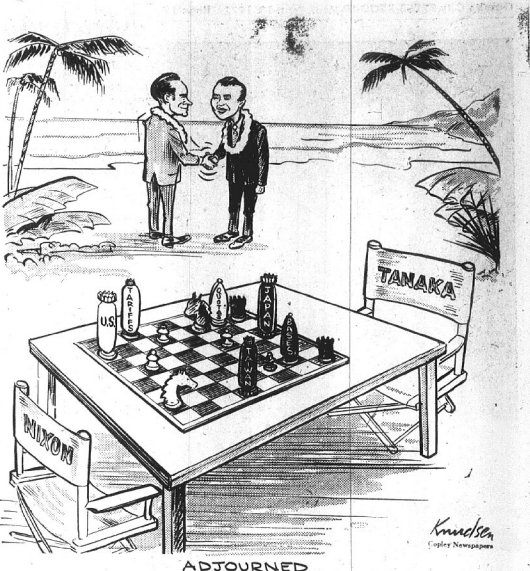

"I don't look on it as figure judging, but rather as character assessment," she added.

When asked by a reporter how her boyfriend felt about her "parading her body about on exhibition," Miss Wisconsin said, "He's very supportive. She didn't feel that she was doing that at all."

The United States has not lacked top level communications with Japan since the end of World War II.

President Nixon and then Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato conferred as recently as last Jan. 7 at the Western White House in San Clemente.

Nevertheless there was a highly charged atmosphere surrounding the late summer conference between President Nixon and new Japanese Premier Kakuei Tanaka in Hawaii.

In the subtle ways of diplomacy, the meeting signified a major turn in the relations between Japan and the United States.

As well as could be expected in the allotted time period, Terry Anne said, "I just couldn't believe it" when she heard she was a double winner.

One of the reasons that Miss Wisconsin made an impression on the pageant judges was her eloquence in speaking of helping other people.

She has a great deal of concern for less fortunate persons in far away places.

"Terry pays for the care of a small boy who lives in Thailand and she is involved in VIVA, the organization which attempts to aid 15,000 prisoners of war and servicemen missing in action."

VIVA is based in Los Angeles and each person who belongs is sent identification bracelets with the name of a POW or MIA (serviceman missing in action). This is to be worn night and day, without removal, and a notice of notification of his survival is given by Hanol.

"I don't have any one-piece suits and I borrowed this from a friend. Miss Michigan is two years ago," she explained.

Terry Anne said she feels that swimsuit competition is a necessary part of the pageant not because it appeals to the males in the audience but because it allows the judges to view the girls when they are all at ease.

"There you are on the runway, in a swimsuit, while everyone else all around you is fully dressed."

"This makes for a rather uncomfortable situation. A contestant must remain poised and cool in what is for her an unusual situation, and believe this puts each girl to a good test."

"I don't look on it as figure judging, but rather as character assessment," she added.

Japan has succeeded beyond its fondest dreams in attaining the goal set by Lt. Gen. Hideki Tojo in 1942, who wanted the people of Asia to "enjoy a new order of co-existence and prosperity on the basis of justice with Japan as the nucleus."

Without resorting to Tojo's military strategy, Japan has achieved this objective through personal initiative and the power of the yen.

Of its annual $6 billion to $8 billion favorable balance of trade, fully $2.2 billion comes from Asia.

Its foreign aid in its eastern sphere of influence surpasses that of the United States.

From South Korea to Indonesia to Burma, Japan has emerged as the pre-eminent economic, political and social force in the Orient. Some 40% of the imports of the Republic of China are from Japan, and Japanese businessmen have more than $100 million invested in that country.

By the same token 41.7% of South Korean imports are from Japan as are 42% of those from the Philippines, 29% of those from Indonesia, and so forth.

They forge a strong web of dependency. After all of this is said, however, the fact remains that Japan cannot ignore military realities.

Although it has a modest defense force of its own, Japan is determined to remain dependent upon the United States for its strategic defenses as well as for the security and survival of the nations in Asia with which it does such a lucrative business.

If it ever came to a matter of choosing between the vague hope of trade with China or the protection of its present economic self-interest, Japan would undoubtedly opt for the latter.

This is the parameter of Japan's independent foreign policy which were recognized apparently in the recent sessions between President Nixon and Tanaka.

It was a timely restatement of common goals.

Auxiliary Plans Focus on Youth

The Amvets Auxiliary of Post 51 voted to send gifts, cards and flowers to Anthony McCrea, 9, a Granite City youngster under treatment at the Shriner Burns Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio. The action was taken when the group met last week at the Post Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

The small boy, who was a patient since June 3 at St. Elizabeth Hospital, was transferred last week to the Shriners medical center in Ohio. Mrs. Charlotte Damsel presided at the business meeting and Mrs. Betty Wilkins, chairman, led the prayer.

The post charter was drawn in tribute to Mrs. Betty Greer, a unit member who died Aug. 31.

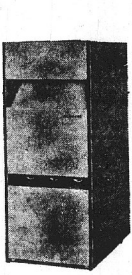

During August, the auxiliary sent birthday cards to the Peace in Valley Youth Ranch, at Carlinville and purchased gifts for patients at the Madison County Nursing Home. A visit to the county Shelter Care Home was made Aug. 31, it was reported. Boxes for servicemen are being prepared and will include food items, cards, games and grooming needs. Members learned that saving a specific brand of cigarette pack could be a project to aid servicemen. Upon return of 500 used packs to the manufacturer, the firm will mail five cartons of cigarettes to a serviceman. It was explained.

Donations were authorized to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and the Amvet World Scholarship Fund.

Flowers Decorate Home For Garden Club Lunch

"The Value of Annuals in Your Garden" was the theme of the program by Mrs. John Lentz at a meeting of the Clover Garden Club held in the home of Mrs. Leo A. Roman, 3213 Colgate Place, on Monday.

The Roman home was colorful with bouquets of fall flowers brought by the members. Discussion focused on the arrangements which included zinnias, cosmos, blue blazers, asters, sweet peas, cockscomb, nasturtiums, marigolds, sedum, petunias and coleus. Mrs. Darie Doremo also read an article on "how to make cut flowers last days longer."

Following a 12:30 dessert luncheon, Mrs. Kenneth Brokaw presided at the business meeting. The club collect was read by Mrs. William Bradley.

A donation was sent to the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. in St. Louis for the Permanent Home fund, and orders were taken for the new 1972-73 flower arrangement and engagement calendars to be distributed at the District V meeting in October.

Members made plans to attend the Madison County Home Extension meeting Wednesday at Southern Illinois University. The all-day session will feature a "Gracious Living" program from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., with a noon luncheon.

Featured on the program will be Virginia Sedel and Geraldine Acker, home furnishings and food specialists. A segment on flower arranging will be presented by Mrs. B. J. Iselhardt, District V director.

"Litter control" will be the future title of chairmen heading anti-litter campaigns, a change which hopefully will express a more positive view of group efforts against indiscriminate littering by motorists, householders and commercial establishments.

Preserving and using garden flowers and wayside material to decorate the home will be the subject of a special program to be presented Thursday, Sept. 28, at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

Mrs. Carl Huesman of the Collinsville Garden Club will be guest speaker and the program will be sponsored by the Gardenaires Mini-Garden Information Center at the Granite City Public Library.

Also attending the club meeting last week were Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, Mrs. Robert McCauley, Mrs. Charles Gandorff and Mrs. Fred Orr.

The Clover Garden Club will next meet at the home of Mrs. O'Neill, 3901 Wabash Ave.

MRS. CLIFFORD YARBROUGH. The former Deborah Ann Barmann of Fairview Heights, who was married Friday evening at St. Albert the Great Catholic Church. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Yarbrough, 6 William John Court.

Miss Barmann Is Wed At Fairview Heights

St. Albert the Great Catholic Church in Fairview Heights, Ill., was the setting for the Friday evening wedding of Miss Deborah Ann Barmann as she became the bride of Clifford T. Yarbrough.

Miss Barmann is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Barmann II, who reside at 100 Debra Drive, Fairview Heights. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Yarbrough, live at 6 William John Court.

The Rev. Thomas D. Flack officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony before an altar surrounded with baskets of autumn blooms.

The bride was lovely in a gown of organza, with a high rise bodice, featuring a scoop neckline and short puff sleeves edged with Venice lace. The skirt was accented with rows of lace, matching the trimming on the attached chapel length train.

A cap effect headpiece was created of daisies and seed pearls and secured a full length veil of illusion, traced with delicate daisies around the border. She carried a traditional bouquet of roses, carnations and baby breath, looped with ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Cindy Barmann, the bride's sister-in-law, served as matron of honor. Miss Cheri Schutzenhoffer and Miss Debbie Miller were bridesmaids and Miss Chrissy Foley was the junior maid.

The attendants were gownned like in white chiffon. The bridesmaids wore a cascade of white lace with a overlay of white lace were made with scoop necklines and full bishop sleeves. They held cascade arrangements of green foliage.

Johnny Bresnahan served as ringbearer.

Charles McGinness was best man and Edwin Barmann, the bride's brother and Tom Tardaro were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Frank Gregory and Joseph Simmers.

The former Miss Barmann is a graduate of the Academy of Notre Dame High School and has attended SIUE.

Her husband was graduated from Granite City High School and attended Mid-Continental Aviation in Kansas City, Mo. He is employed at Reliable Loan Co. in Belleville.

The couple greeted relatives and friends at a reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall in East St. Louis immediately after the ceremony.

Upon their return from a honeymoon at Tan-Tan-A Lodge at the Lake of the Ozarks they will reside in Belleville.

CHARITY DAYS. an annual activity at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, was held Thursday through Saturday to raise funds for a variety of benefit projects. From the left are Mrs. Alma Klaus, Mrs. Sharon Morris and Mrs. Gail Sowders, all of American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 and at far right is Mrs. Gail Sowders, who was here from Dayton, O., in connection with the Shrine Great Lakes Association meeting hosted by Aired Temple.

Lake Parents to SIUE Master's Programs Of Excellent Quality

Lake School Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first general meeting this evening at 7:30 at the school.

Dale Phelps, president, will open the meeting by presenting the 1972-73 officers and faculty members will be introduced by Principal Edward Gonwa.

Lee Reid, principal of the Prohardt School, Mrs. Janet Warren, a teacher at the Lake School and Gonwa will take part in a panel discussion. Purpose of the panel program is to inform parents about the new report card system being used in the elementary schools this year.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

A nearly completed review of all master's degree programs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has not indicated any programs that should be eliminated. The SIUE Board of Trustees was told Thursday.

Howard Dye, dean of the SIUE Graduate School, told the trustees in a special meeting that most of the University's 34 master's programs appear to be of excellent quality. Dye said weaknesses in some programs have been pinpointed during the review and are being corrected.

Donald Myer, professor of biological sciences and chairman of the program review committee, said current graduate students, recently graduated students, former students who have left graduate programs, faculty members and program directors all were consulted as part of the review process.

"This committee was perfectly ready to recommend elimination of programs not meeting standards of academic excellence," Myer told the trustees, who were asked earlier this year by the Illinois Board of Higher Education to assess graduate studies at the University. "However, our unprecedented, massive review did not turn up any such programs."

No Doctoral Programs

Dye said although the University serves an area with about 8% of the state's population, it offers only about 4% of the master's degree programs in the state, 4% of the specialist certificates and no doctoral programs at all.

"There are some fields where we need graduate programs that we don't offer now," Dye said. "Most of our students are here because of this University's nearness to their home and jobs. They don't have the alternative to attend school elsewhere."

Dye said more than 2,000 of the University's 2,400 graduate students attend school part-time because they must work to support themselves or their families. He said the cost of attending SIUE part-time for the average graduate student is $950 annually.

The cost of attending any other area university part-time would be about $1,910 annually (the only other area universities are in Missouri and thus would charge out-of-state tuition), while the cost of commuting to any other Illinois university on a part-time basis would be about $2,850 per year.

All proposed graduate programs are reviewed carefully when proposed, with many never making it to the University trustees for approval, Dye said.

"Because all programs go through a rigorous process when they are conceived, we feel the ones that are instituted tend to be strong ones," Dye said.

Dye said he believes any program can be improved in some way and said all programs have benefited by the current review process. He said a system of annual follow-up reports will be instituted for all graduate programs.

CAR LOOTED

A car owned by Richard Bobb, Apt. 15, 1812 August St. was looted of 12 magnetic decays by a thief who also loosened the radio aerial and twisted the outside mirror, it was reported to police at 9:23 a.m. Saturday.

CAR STEREO TAKEN

The stereo tape player of Donald Hesterberg, Apartment 1 of 4021 Gaslight Walk, Ponton Beach, was removed from Hesterberg's panel truck, parked in front of his home, he reported at 7:50 a.m. Saturday.

The dashboard of the truck was damaged extensively when the unit was removed, he said.

Miss Janet Harrison, Wendell Johnson Wed

Bouquets of white gladioli, interspersed with greenery, graced the sanctuary of St. John United Church of Christ for the afternoon wedding Saturday of Miss Janet Harrison and Wendell Johnson.

The Rev. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, heard the couple exchange their wedding promises at 3:30 o'clock.

The former Miss Harrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Harrison, 3069 Wayne Ave. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Johnson, reside at 3321 Wildfire Drive.

A program of wedding music was presented on the organ by Mrs. Irene Barrick prior to the arrival of the bridal party. The organist also accompanied Lawrence Hagler of St. Louis, soloist, who sang "More," "We've Only Just Begun" and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father.

She wore an exquisite gown of white organza over tulle. The bodice was closely fitted and featured a scoop neckline edged with Venice lace. The sleeves were puffed and ended in a flared puff covering the wrists.

Tiny buttons embossed in pink satin matching a ribbon trim at the waistline and a tracing of pink accenting the lovely mantilla veil worn over her hair.

She carried a colonial bouquet made up of white roses, pink poms and stephanotis.

Mrs. Don Blair, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Don Mueller and Miss Gloria Sickmeier.

The attendants were gownned alike with exception of color. The honor attendant was in hot pink crepe and the bridesmaids wore blue crepe gowns.

Their floor length dresses were designed with fitted bodices, re-embroidered with green, pink and white flowers, and solid color skirts. The sleeves of white chiffon were gathered into crepe cuffs matching the color of the gown and tiny Peter Pan collars were trimmed with harmonizing bows.

Brief veils in coordinating colors were worn as headpieces and their flowers were arranged in colonial style.

Pink daisy poms and baby breath were carried by the matron of honor and the bridesmaids held arrangements of blue daisy poms and baby breath.

Beth Anne Mueller, the flower girl, was dressed in a full length frock in pale blue made with puffed sleeves. The waistline was encircled with delicate pink and blue flowers and a large bow detailed the back. She held a basket of pink and blue daisies and rose petals.

Larry Mueller was the ring bearer.

The bridegroom chose Don Mueller as best man. His brother, Gary Johnson, and a brother-in-law, Don Blair, were the groomsmen.

Seating the guests at church were Doug Fowble and Dave Jones.

Mrs. Harrison, mother of the bride, selected a full length gown in royal blue and the groom's mother wore a gown in the long pale pink frock. Both wore corsages of white orchids with purple throats.

In a symbolic gesture, the bride presented her mother and mother-in-law with a single long stemmed white rose before leaving the sanctuary.

The newly married pair greeted more than 250 relatives and friends at a reception held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, 2044 Washington Ave.

Miss Nikki Condis, wearing a long blue gown trimmed in white, presided at the guest register.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are 1971 graduates of Granite City High School.

The former Miss Harrison is employed at the First Granite City National Bank. Her husband is an employee of Steelcase Corp.

Hudson JEWELERS

Granite City and Edwardsville

The Honeydoon had a great time beginning a few thousand years ago when a bride was seized by a stalwart tribesman from a neighboring tribe. It was necessary for him to take her to a secluded spot well away from her relatives and friends until he had "tamed" her. The Romans added their own bit of logic to the ancient custom of running away by actually declaring a full month, or a complete moon's cycle, of a honeymoon and exactly one month after the wedding, the newlyweds celebrated their betrothal by drinking a ceremonial wine made from honey. And so the Romans still exert a powerful influence on our wedding customs—which we simply like to grant.

At HUDSON'S we are quite happy to take all the delightful wedding custom for granted. Just say we urge you not to waste any time in coming by HUDSON'S to get fitted with your Wedding Plans.

Meeting on Holiday Basket Clearinghouse

"For some years there has been an attempt to provide Christmas baskets to the needy of this area. We are attempting to establish a more effective clearinghouse and would like the opportunity to discuss the matter with all who work in this area," Salvation Army Capt. Ronald J. Kerley reported today.

"We are inviting our consultant from St. Louis to come and give pointers in this area. We invite all who are interested to join us over coffee and doughnuts at the Salvation Army building, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, Thursday, Sept. 21, at 10 a.m.

"This is in no way an attempt to dictate who takes which families, but it is an attempt to see that the family gets a basket to the same family," Capt. Kerley explained.

"We will look forward to meeting with all, and we hope they feel free to make suggestions. I ask that they call 451-2857 so that we will know how many to expect."

Jurisdictional Issue On University Duties

Painters from the district council established picket lines at entrances to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as the result of a work assignment dispute at 10:30 a.m. Friday.

University administrators have assigned custodians the responsibility for washing walls in classroom and office areas. Painters are contending that this is a job function they should perform when painting is to be done.

The university will hold classes as usual and will maintain as near normal operations as possible, Dr. John S. Rendleman, S.I.U. president, said. The fall term is beginning today.

Some crafts are observing the picket lines and others are working at S.I.U. today.

Fights, Beating Injure 3 Persons

Two men and a woman were injured in disturbances at 20th Street and Washington Avenue Friday evening and early Saturday morning.

Terry Champion, 24, of 1932 Sixth St., East Madison, and Willie Garnett, 23, of 1738 Chestnut St., were admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after they were beaten by several men at 12:05 a.m. Saturday. Granite City police first were called to the area at 5:30 p.m. Friday when Liz Numery, 20th Street and Park Avenue, reported two men struck her while she was walking from a tavern to her car.

Two other men came to assist her at which time several men jumped from a blue car and a fight developed. Blackjacks and sticks were used in the altercation, she said. She left the scene to call police, and declined hospital treatment.

Officers again were summoned at 12:05 a.m. Saturday and found Champion and Garnett unconscious in front of a tavern at 20th Street and Washington Avenue. Several men were standing nearby, but none of the men would comment on what had happened. A witness said two gunshots were heard.

Champion later said he and Garnett were entering the tavern when a man displayed a gun and forced them outside, where he and several other men beat them.

Champion was treated for contusions and lacerations to his head and Garnett received a head laceration. Both were admitted in fair condition.

Bus Drivers Accept Bi-State Contract

Members of Division 788 of the Amalgamated Transit Union voted 500 to 200 to accept a new contract agreement with the Bi-State Transit System.

The contract, effective Sept. 1, is for nine months and replaces a one-year contract that expired Aug. 31. The union had contract until Sept. 15 while it agreed to extend the former negotiations continued.

The new contract calls for a nine-month continuation of the former one-year agreement with no changes in wages. However, there are certain changes in working conditions which will result in a cost stand-off between Bi-State and the union.
